THE PRIVATE SECRETARY AT THE CITY HALL.

One of the largest audiences which of late years have assembled in the Theatre Royal, City Hall, gathered last evening to witness the performance of Hawtrey's farcical comedy, The Private Secretary. The entertainment was announced by Mr F. M. Page, an artist of rare merit who has now been known by the Hongkong public for a considerable time; and a number of amateurs eleven of them in all comprising three ladies and eight gentlemen-gave their services as a kind of . The first three sections were passed with farewell benefit to this clever actor.

amateurs towards a thoroughly deserving and popular artist, we were glad to see bumper house on this occasion. The Private Secretary is more of farce than a comedy, and it owes its success more to its running fire of fun, than to any higher qualities, or to the existence of any plot. The scenery and dressing of the piece were exceedingly creditable, and the evidences that a professional artist of experience was behind the scenes, as well as in front, were easily recognisable. course, the title role was undertaken Mr Page, and his personation of the Rev. The party were two days in reaching their destination, as they had to follow the longer route by way of the West River in order to find a channel of sufficient depth for the launches. Arrived at Sz-Ui, a day and a half were occupied in distributing the supplies. The company separating into three parties, went through the villages, giving tickets for rice to the elders, the amount in each case being based as far as could be on the needy condition of the people. These tickets were afterwards brought to the boats, where they were redeemed, the supplies being distributed with the assistance of the boatmen and the soldiers detached to accompany the expedition. The money was for the most part bestowed on individual cases of distress as they were found, as was also a part of the wadded conts, and a little of the rice. THE NEWSPAPER ORDINANCE. The following is the full text of the discussion which took place in the Legislative Council yesterday afternoon on the new ordinance intended to regulate the printing of newspapers and books and the keeping of printing presses within this Colony:-

The Attorney-General-I move that the Council go into Committee upon the Bill entitled A Bill to regulate the printing of newspapers and books and the keeping of printing presses within the colony. The Acting Colonial Secretary seconded and the Council went into Committee upon few verbal alterations, but on the reading f Subsection 3 of Section 4, which provides that when the publisher of a newspaper leaves the colony temporarily a fresh declaration shall be required from another publisher, the following discussion arose. Hon, P. Ryrie This is the section which the printers and proprietors of newspapers in this Colony most strongly object to. They think it rather hard that when they happen to leave the colony for a short time, they should have to send the person who is to act for them in their absence up to a magistrate to make a declaration. They have got capital and plant and they leave an adequate stuff behind them, and everything else, and why should they be subjected to any more inconvenience than any other form of business? They leave their representative behind them, and it seems to me hard that they should have to comply with those clauses, and I think they have repliy a grievance there. Hon. T. Jackson-Sir. I coincide with the remarks which have just fallen from the senior unofficial member. I think this clause is a little verstious. I do not see any necessity for it at all, and I think that in all legislation we should counder, as far as possible, the convenience of the persons affected, and not put them to unnecessary

The Attorney-General I quite agree with the hon, member who has just spoken that in all legislation we ought to consider, as far as possible, the convenience of the Private Secretary, seemingly falls to the parties affected by it. At the same time, however, we must not forget the public interests in which we are legislating. At all events I submit to the Council that there are really substantial reasons for this provision, and I should like those reasons to be thoroughly appreciated by the Council before I ask to leave the clause in its present form, in a form which, I admit, does subject the proprietors of newspapers to certain inconveniences - which, for want of knowledge of what they really amount to, my hon. friends are rather disposed to over-estimate, but which are still inconveniences. I think it is admitted by every member of proprietor of a newspaper in the terms provided by this section, namely—that The Printer and Publisher of every newspaper or paper shall appear before the Registrar and shall make and subscribe in the Newspaper Register a declaration according to the form No. 1 in the Schedule hereunto annexed-is a reasonable and proper provision of law. This removes all question as to who is the printer or pubtain libellous matter, or any matter in reference to which legal proceedings may be necessary. That must be admitted

As often as the printer or publisher who

I shall propose to add the words " permaneutly or temporarily" absent a declaration shall be necessary. Suppose the printer or publisher who has made this declaration that he is the printer and publisher of a paper leaves the colony, and in his shance the paper issues an article containing libellous matter, or matter necessitating legal proceedings, how are we to proceed? We must have someone who is responsible. Hon. P. Ryrie made some remarks with reference to snother provision, which our reporter was unable to hear. The Attorney General-Oh yes, I have no doubt whatever. The question which I have heard raised here is whether a bond is required or not, which is a totally different matter. A bond is required, but this is a matter of registration, and I am under the impression that even in the case of temporary absence some registration is necessary, Hon. P. Ryrie-If the publisher of the The accompanying report of the Relief Times goes to Brighton has be to make a must be responsible during the absence of the proprietor. You cannot charge a man with a criminal act simply because, he has signed a declaration as printer and publisher if he is not in the colony. And after all I don't see the hardship is in any way so great, because all the substitute has to do is to step into the Supreme Court and sign a declaration. I don't see how you are to deal with it otherwise, particularly under the circumstances of this colony. It is not like England, where a man does not leave the jurisdiction. Here a man may go away for a few hours and be out of the jurisdiction in a very short time.

The Chief Justice-In the two cases I refer to one was in Macao and one in Canton. of the English law. Hon. P. Ryrie-I beg to second that. The Attorney General—Then we had better let the whole clause stand over until the next meeting of the Council. The further consideration of section 4 was thereupon allowed to stand over until the next meeting. Section b was then read by the Olerk as follows :-

Whoever shall print or publish any newspaper or paper without o mforming to the provisions in Section 4, or whoever shall print and publish or cause to be printed or published any newspaper or paper knowing that the said provisions have not been complied with, shall on conviction be liable to a penalty of n exceeding $3,000 and to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years. it hinges on section 4. The Chief Justice-I understand you only object to the word 'temporarily.' Hon. P. Ryrio - There is the amount of the penalty. What is the amount of the penalty in England 1

The Attorney General As regards the penalty, I am prepared to move an amendment. If the whole of section 4 were objected to it would be well to let this stand over, but I understand the objection is only to sub-section 3, so that we might go on with this.

Hon. P. Ryrie-I have been informed this bill has been abandoned altogether in Bugland for a number of years. The Chief Justice-Who says that ?-

Hon. P. Ryrie gave no reply. His Excellency (to the Attorney General) -Were you going to suggest an alteration in the penalty ! The Attorney General-Yes : I would be prepared to suggest, and I think the Council would agree with me that it is desirable that it should be altered in its character and possibly reduced in its amount. I propose it be altered to a penalty not exceeding $1,000 or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months. The Chief Justice-The nature of the penalty was the reason this was not pressed in the cases I have mentioned because the Court would have been bound both to imprison the parties and inflict the fine. The amendment was carried nem con.
